RESOURCES & UPDATES PORTAL

#ANH2016

A huge thanks to everyone who contributed to and participated in the first ANH Academy Week in Addis Ababa. Resources from the Week will be uploaded periodically through the channels listed below and in the coming week we'll be in touch with all attendees to request your valuable feedback.

1. Join the ANH Academy. Membership is free and among all the other benefits of being a member you will receive a daily update from the Academy Week each evening via email.
2. Social media: Live posts from @IMMANA_Res and a range of attendees. The Academy Week hashtag is #ANH2016.
3. Photos: We'll be updating the ANH Academy Flickr page continuously. Feel free to follow or post your own!
4. Videos: Short clips from the Academy Week will be uploaded on a daily basis
5. Presentations: Slides from the Learning Labs and Conference
6. ANH Academy Week Discussion Forum: Whether you're in Addis Ababa or not, join the conversation on the Academy forum
7. ANH Academy Week programme
8. ANH Academy Week Booklet

At the bottom of the page, there are logos for ICIRAH, immana, and the Research Program on Agriculture for Nutrition, along with a UK flag and social media icons for Facebook, Twitter, and RSS.

For years, I have focused in the nexus of food, agriculture, nutrition and health, and this is my passion: to end hunger and achieve food and nutrition security. I want to see the most vulnerable empowered to thrive and overcome malnutrition and poverty.

I grew up in Quito, Ecuador, but I am a global citizen. I have had the privilege to live, study and work in several countries, and visit many more in the past 16 years. This experience and friendships with people from all over the world have given me a heightened appreciation for diversity and

About the group

What is the group about?

- This is online community facilitated by volunteers formed as sub-group of the global Agriculture to Nutrition (Ag2Nut) network

Who can join the group?

- All professionals (Ethiopians and non-Ethiopians) who are interested in agriculture and nutrition linkages in Ethiopia

Why is the sub-group needed?

- Some of the events, topics and issues we want share relevant to Ethiopia might not need to be shared among all global Ag2Nut members
- Since nutrition is a fast-rising multi-sectoral topic in Ethiopia, a multi-disciplinary network of professionals is needed for faster impact and reduction of malnutrition in the country

Progress made

- Initial meeting was held during the ANH Academy week in Addis Ababa, June 23 2016
- At and following the meeting, many professionals showed interest to join the network
- Email list of interested individuals was formed, starting from existing Ag2Nut members in Ethiopia, but with additional members joining
- The global ag2nut coordinating team created the Ethiopia sub-group webpage and common email

Future plans

- Share nutrition related events specific to Ethiopia
- Possible initiatives:
 - Support nutrition training in institutions
 - Connect with formal professional associations in Ethiopia /FONSE, Agriculture, Health, Education etc/
 - Work together on materials that could be used to train frontline workers and community groups
 - Find ways to work with national policy makers: for employment of graduates who understand nutrition and agriculture; initiation of new training programs

How can members help

- Both the global Ag2Nut community and the Ethiopia sub group are facilitated by volunteers who wish to see problems of malnutrition solved
- Members are encouraged to:
 - propose ideas, comments
 - Invite new members
 - Share the news in their network
 - Contribute their knowledge, time and resources

Upcoming events

- The academic center of Excellence for Nutrition at Hawasas University is hosting the second national academic nutrition conference in February 2017
- The Center is also opening nutrition short term training center to be launched in 2017

- Acknowledgements to the Ag2Nut Community
- Thank you 😊
