

Multi-Sectoral Nutrition Strategy

Global Learning and Evidence Exchange

June 21–23, 2016 | Bangkok, Thailand

Photo courtesy of Fintrac Inc.

CONCURRENT SESSION 2: Nutrition Policy in Real Life: Examples and Opportunities

Dr Somchai Durongdej

Faculty of Public Health, Shinawatra International University

USAID
FROM THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

FANTA III
FOOD AND NUTRITION
TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE

SPRING
Strengthening Partnerships, Results
and Innovations in Nutrition Globally

Objectives of my presentation

To provide my practical experiences in influencing Nutrition Policy with a theoretical framework .

Specific objectives of this session

- 1. Participants will learn about the different parties that must be involved in the successful development, uptake, and application of nutrition policy;
- 2. Participants will learn about steps involved in development, uptake, and application of nutrition policy.

Need for multi-sectoral strategies

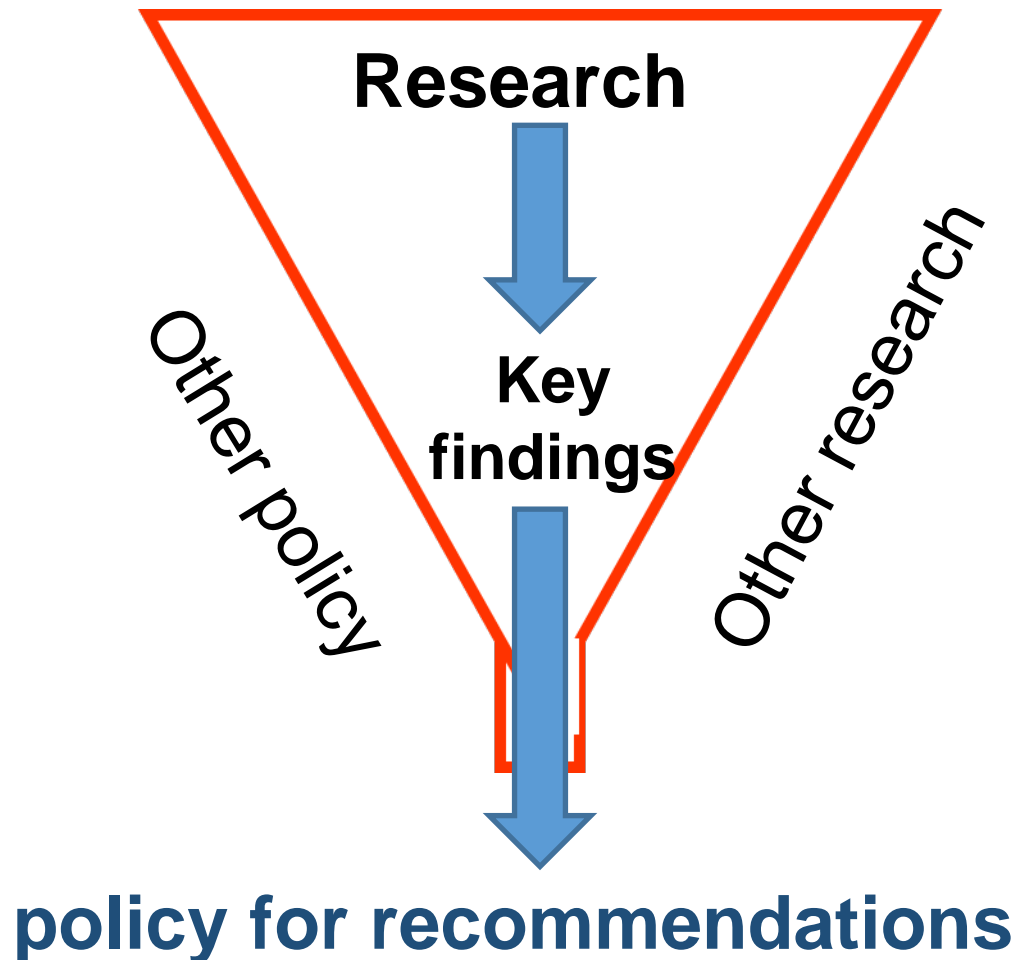

- ❑ Nutrition requires leadership and cooperation from various agencies.
- ❑ Effective policy needs cooperation between the political level, governmental agencies, and the private sectors.

What is the policy

- Decision making framework.
- Set direction
- Changing working environment

Selecting issues for recommendations

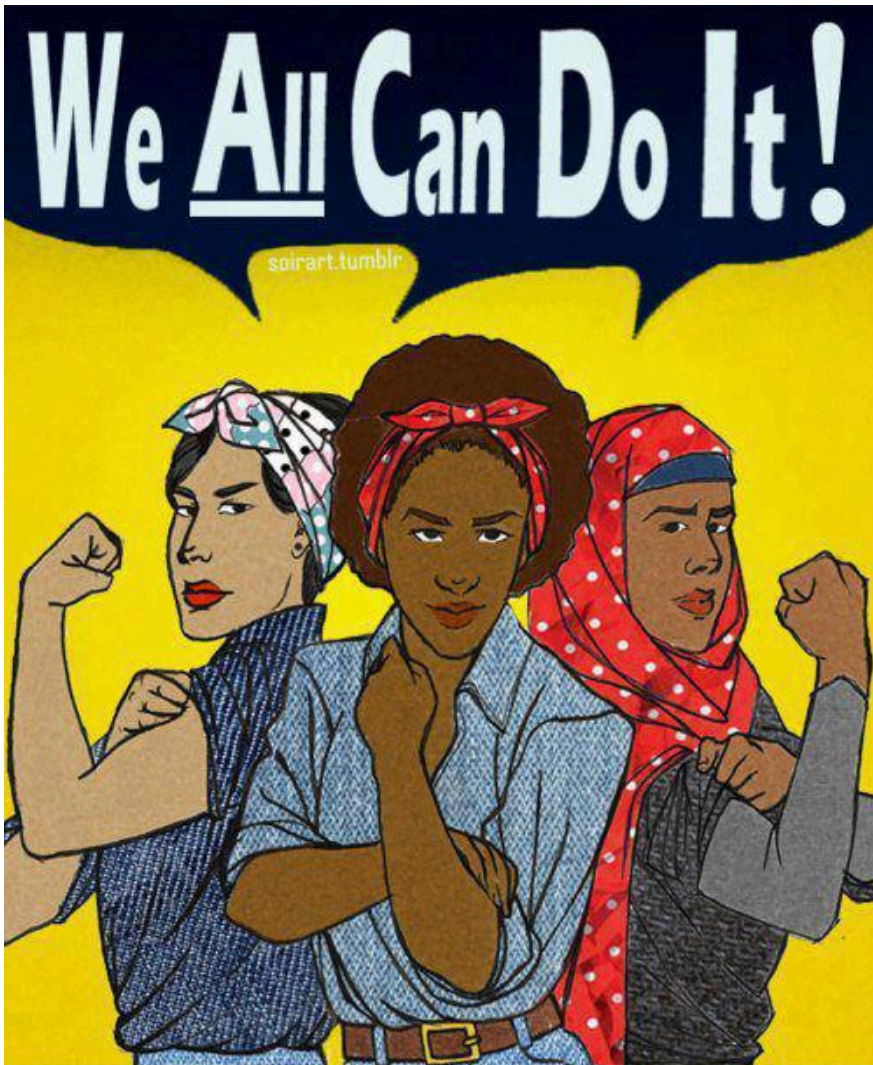

Key findings contribute to BF

Indicators	Key findings
Initiation of BF	Early contact : infant/mother Rooming-in Health care provider support
Exclusive BF	BF technique support No liquid No food education
Duration of BF	Family support Community support BF at the workplace Maternity leave

Steps for nutrition policy process

Essential activities

Feminism is worthless without intersectionality and inclusion.

- 1. Build up social demand
- 2. Promote evidence-based advocacy
- 3. Build up multi-sector partnership